THE ENTERTAINMENT AT DIXIE THEATRE LAST NIGHT

(By Special Reporter)
Under the auspices of the Clarksville Literary Club there was given in the Dixie Theatre on Thursday evening a most unusual amateur production—"The Importance of Being Earnest." The selection of this play was a happy one indeed, as it is witty, clever, and interesting in true Oscar Wilde style from beginning to end.

The characters were good, without exception. Frank Futrell and Ennis Bryan were quite funny in the pose of dignified servants, and took their parts well. Mrs. Robert Johnson was a typical English governess in her portrayal of Miss Prism. It would really seem that Mr. Clee Vaughan missed his calling in being a publisher, after seeing him in the part of Rev. Canon Chasuble, as his ecclesiastical interpretation was without flaw, and he was thoroughly dignified, courteous, and thoughtfully kind throughout. Miss Gertie Dunn was a delightful Miss Fairfax and charmed the audience during the entire play. Lady Bracknell, her mother, was interpreted by Miss Elizabeth Kitchin in a real spirit of aristocratic snobbishness and arrogance, which showed talented action and splendid training. Miss Annie Maria McDowell was quite lovely in the part of Cecily Cardew and delighted everyone. John Josey and Jerry Brown were perfectly fine, perfectly English, and screamingly funny. It was indeed an all-star cast.

The audience was fairly large and full of enthusiasm throughout the evening. The generous applause expressed their delight of the drama, which was so skillfully staged and so attractively given.

A very enjoyable feature of the evening's entertainment was the singing of Mr. R. Stanley Travis, accompanied on the piano by Mr. John Josey, who also assisted in the singing, and a quartet by Mess. John Josey, Frank Futrell, W. D. Harden and R. Stanley Travis.

Mrs. E. A. Helms Gains Twenty Pounds

"I firmly believe Tanlac saved my life," recently declared Mrs. E. A. Helms, R. F. D. No. 4, Gastonia, N. C. "I was suffering so badly with rheumatism, neuralgia and nervous indigestion," said she, "that I don't see how I could have stood it much longer."

"My stomach was so weak I could eat nothing except a little milk and bread and many times I could not retain that. I never knew what it was to get a good night's sleep and often I was so nervous and racy with pain that I felt I would rather not live."

"Tanlac helped me right from the start and after taking three bottles many of my friends told me I looked a thousand times better. I told them I felt that way, too, and that it was all due to Tanlac. I have gained about twenty pounds and never felt better in my life."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.
